

This song was written for the singing group "His Workmanship" (of which I was the pianist and alto between the years 1979 to 1986) when we had to do a benefit concert and needed a short and fast opener. It was a "seventies-thing" but we actually ran out on stage to this! God blessed us anyway! Oh to have that youthful energy and enthusiasm again — for we still have someone to sing about! His name is Jesus!

I Have Something To Sing About
